Peace Day Celebration By Chauvin G. W. V. A

A most enjoyabl time was spent by all the visitors to the Peace Day celebration, organized by the Chauvin G.-W.V.A., on Tuesday, July 19th, on the Sports Ground

During the early part of the afternoon it appeared that owing to the small crowd present it would be advisable to call the event off. At about three o'clock it was decided to proceed, and from that time every one, as we have said, spent a very happy time. The hot weather was tempered by a good breeze, and os most of the events were staged in the horse ring, most of the visitors were able to sit and watch in comfort.

Music was provided by the McCafferty band both during the afternoon and evening.

The obstacle race was the first item on the program, and provided much merriment to the onlookers if not to the participants. The mounted tug-of war was quite one-sided, the winning team being able to pull it all over the other boys. The zigzag enforced the riders to pass a number of trees, alternately on the right and left sides, demanding considerable horsemanship. J. A. Williams was only pulled from his horse after a long struggle with the two remaining members of the winning team, he earned the plaudits of the crowd. Indoor baseball proved interesting alike to participants and onlookers, being hard burlesque of a game.

A bucking contest was pulled off early in the evening Reinhart and Williams both giving a splendid exhibition of horsemanship

The following is the list of prize winners.

Obstacle race: 1. Don Saul; 2 G. M. Beattie

Tug of war: winning team J. Reinhart, C. Bull, W. Biench, O. StPierre

The new Alberta legislature will be mostly constituted as follows:

Farmers	39
Libearsl	14
Labor	4
Independent	4

No announcement was available at the Calgary headquarters of the United Farmers of Alberta Tuesday night concerning plans for calling together the conference of farmer members fortnight or so, a farmer administrator, at which a premier will be chosen, but it is thought that within a tion will be organized and prepared to take over the reins of government from Hon. Chas. Stewart, who will carry on until his successor is ready. It is stated that a conference of members elect will be held in Calgary, probably on Tuesday, July 26, and that arrangements to this effect are going forward among the elected farmers—Edmonton Bulletin

The result of the election is rather a triumph for the group government idea than a defeat of the Stewart administration, for it was admitted from the Farmers platform's in every section of the province that the Stewart government was a very good one as governments go—Lethbridge Herald

We are glad that the result is definite and that a united party has been returned with sufficient power to form a solidified government.

From the beginning of the campaign it was apparent that the individual farmers of the province had got beyond the control of the people who organized a political party within the farmers economic organization The Farmers now find themselves in a position of power, and they will have to justify their own action in

G. L. Hudson Speaks At Chauvin

An enthusiastic meeting was held in the Oddfellow hall on Wednesday evening last in behalf of G. L. Hudson, Independent candidate.

Mr. J. A. Code, chairman, in the enforced lateness of G. L. Hudson, gave Mr. Clark, of Irma an opportunity to speak on behalf of the U.F.A candidate Mr. J. R. Love

G. L. Hudson, arriving from Prosperity during the remarks of Mr J. G. Clarke, was called upon by the chairman. His speech was a strong virile vindication of his work in the opposition during the past eight years. He outlined the legislative history of the province in brief and gave a long list of figures showing costs of government and the provincial debt. He stated that the private member was not responsible for the spending of moneys in his constituencies (as so many supposed) but the minister in charge of the various departments by which such moneys were expended. Referring to the government road in this constituency he stated that in 1919 the sum of $11455 was spent, of which sum $1702 was expended as this $1702 was spent as salaries, subsistence, mileage and othersundry expenses. In 1920 $39021.18 had been spent on this road, with $3075.75 as expenditures as before mentioned. The total expenditure for the two yars being aproximately $50,000.00, an equivalent to $1500.00 per mile for the 30 miles completed.

Hudson was in favor of the fullest measure of autonomy being given to the local councils, and favored the expenditures of the provincial funds for improvements through the local councils as a means of effecting economies and better results

Mr. Hudson received hearty applause at the end of his speech and judging from the entire absence of questions it appeared that all present were ntirely satisfied with his performances whilst representing them in the legislative council.

The meeting came to a close by singing the National Anthem.

J. R. Love Speaks At Chauvin

Thursday afternoon the I.O.O.F. hall was crowded with those who came to hear the speakers on behalf of Mr. J. Russell Love, the U.F.A. candidate. Mrs C. Miller officiated as chairman, and invite any who desire to speak in opposition to notify their wish to do so; and that opportunity would be afforded to those desiring to ask questions would be afforded after the speakers had had the platform. Mrs. Armour, Messrs Lang and Foreman expressed a desire to address the meeting, and were granted the opportunity.

H. E. Spencer spoke at length in support of the the U.F.A. nominee, Mr. J. Russell Love, outlining the reasons why the farmer's party was entering the provincial political arena. He recalled the solid opposition offered by the ministers of the Stewart government at the Cochrane election in their fight against the farmers. Why did they leave their offices to come and scrutineer unless it was to se that the farmers voted right.

Rev. Priestley, of Wainwright in his speech stated he was here because of th Chauvin Chronicle and proceeded to attack its editorial with satirical criticism much to the amusement of all present.

Mr. J. Russell Love, who had been seated in the hall was then called to the platform, and received with hearty applause. He briefly reviewed the circumstances of his nomination, and appreciating the honor conferred upon him stated his intention if elected to do his utmost in the interests of the farmers. He spoke at length upon the natural resources and the necessity of making provision ahead for the protection of those who owned the land under which mineral and oil wealth may be discovered. He urged that the owner of these lands should have a defined share in this wealth, as is done in certain states in the United States. Regarding hospitals, he favored the construction of hospiatls of a more economic standard but sufficient to meet the needs of the people especially in view of maternity and minor cases.

A number of questions were then asked, after which the meeting was brought to a close by singing of the National Anthem.

Well-to-do people invest in Life Insurance for the following reasons:

First—because it is a safe Investment

Second—because it pays a good Interest rate.

Letters To The Editor

Chauvin, July 16th 1921

To the Editor:

Dear Sir:

I have handed in a copy of the convention of the U.F.A. & U.F.W.A. held at Wainwright on July 7th inst., trusting you will publish the same, which I believe to be a true report.

I would like to say a few words in reference to your editorial published in the Chronicle last week. There has been several members of the U.F.A. say that they were going to tell you to stop delivering your paper to them. I will come forward as I have said the same thing myself. I think I can answer for all of them by saying it was the excitement of the fight we are putting up at the present moment. I will now appeal to all who have supported Mr. J. Russell Love to continue subscribing to their local paper.

My reason for the same is that this is a free country and every man and woman has a right to express themselves in the matter of politics. I would also state that every one has their different views of each candidate and these little matters seem to cause strife between the supporters of each candidate. I would like to appeal to all when the election is over, which it will be by the time you will publish this letter if you see fit to publish it do; Let us forget the past and unite one and all in the old friendly way, as we have done in the past and let sociability reign.

"For old time's sake
Let us forget and forgive
Life is too short to quarrel,
Heart's too precious to break—
Shake hands and let us be friends
For old time's sake."

I remain,
Yours truly
JAMES TOOTH

(The following account of the U.F.A. convention is inserted at the request of Mr James Tooth, as per his letter—Editor)

The U. F. A. Convention held in the Elite theatre Wainwright on 7th July was well attended, delegates being present from practically every local in the constituency. H. E. Spencer was elected to the chair, and the meeting opened with 'O Canada'

The chairman explained the reason of calling the convention, at the same time denied a rumor that he was favoring one or the other party, but assured his hearers that no party whatever had any string on him.

There was considerable discussion as to the advisability of putting a candidate in the field. It was argued that the U.F.A. was not prepared to enter the political field, and to do so would be a big mistake, from the farmers point of view, as there were already two good men out. Federal politics should be their aim. The Stewart government was the best government for the province. To fight the provincial election they would be defeated and possibly discouraged.

Mr Priestley, of Wainwright, said their movement was spreading like a prairie fire and thought that preparation would be proved by winning in Edmonton, and so being the reader for the Federal election.

Delegate Rodden, of Chauvin, in reply claimed that the Stewart legislature was good and had always stood to help farmers, it was not so much a farmer government that was wanted as a real good government. The question must be discussed from a philosophic point of view. Mr Armour of Chauvin believed that the Stewart government was a true farmers' government and that it was far best that this convention should leave the provincial fight alone, as it would split forces between townsmen and farmers, which help would be needed for federal politics.

Priestly said the reason why Stewart was not being opposed was that he was at heart a U.F.A. man. The U.F.A. was an idea for betterment of the whole country of agrarians, was the democratic cry of people and must stand solid, and not stand aside in either provincial or federal matters.

Another speaker claimed that only when the U.F.A. got strong enough did that government look out for farmer candidates. J. G. Clark, Irma though if majority of convention voted to put candidate in the field, all would stand by U. F. A. Mr Wiley, Sulphur Springs, said the reason for wanting a U. F. A. candidate was a desire to turn from machine politics, to a real live working body at Edmonton.

Mrs. Armour who crossed swords with the majority feeling as expressed thought speakers seemed to outline such a condition as millenium.

The motion on being put was carried by vote of 79 to 7

After lunch the chairman explained that on account of deciding to take political action it would be necessary to adopt a constitution. The constitution adopted by Vermilion was read and adopted

The provincial political platform form was read to the meeting and carried

The formation of Wainwright U. F. A. Political Association was proceeded with. The following were elected:—

President: Rev. N. F. Priestley, of Wainwright
1st Vice-President: Mr Wiley, Sulphur Springs
2nd Vice-President: Mrs Miller, of Lealholme
Directors: Messrs Tooth, Lasell, P-Dougall, Hill, Scott and Ford

The following were the nominated for provincial candidates.

Geo. L. Hudson, Wainwright; J. W. Wiley, Sulphur Springs; J. G. Clark, Irma; Mayor Lally, Wainwright; J. R. Love, Irma

Mayor Lally asked that his name be withdrawn. Fearing some party trick each nominator was called up to eulogize his nominee, and all gave their reasons in no uncertain manner and were well received by an indulgent audience.

Nominees were given 15 minutes each to speak: Mr Hudson was called to address the convention. He suggested that possibly they were surprised to see him at this gathering. In the past he had aligned with the old line parties, but today things were vastly different. This was the day of the democrat and his turning from the old party was no death bed repentance. He had followed independent lines in the House since his return from he front, he had not succided with others because he had kept faith with those who elected him.

Since the house was dissolved he had held the attitude of a free personage on account of short time for campaign purposes. Endeavours had been made to kill farmers movement, but the machine organization of the Stewart government had been unable to this so had "hurled from the blue" the mandate for an election

The U. F. A. platform was one which he knew from observation could be worked in unity, but dictates from a few would throttle the best work of all from provincial standpoint. There was nothing in the platform which he could not fully endorse. He made his attitude very clear on points of natural resources.

Mr Wiley said he had no idea that he would be a nominee for high office, and was fully in accord with party's platform because he considered it was thenearest to true democracy. Machine government had proved a failure. Direct legislation was the final and true democratic state. He also spoke strongly against the Imperial Oil Co., getting control of the north country. He thought that the coming session of government would prove to be one of the greatest sessions known in the Dominion. The U.F.A. ticket should be upheld on account of it being the only just proposition for the worker on the farm.

J. G. Clark, Irma suggested that a government which was so doubtful of its strength after 16 years in power as to force a snap judgement was self condemned. The U.F.A. was justified in placing a candidate in the field.

He strongly criticized Mr Hudson's change from Conservative to Independent and wanted to know if the convention did not nominate him would he withdraw and work for the U.F.A. candidate

Hudson stated that he was in the fight to the last, whether nominee of U.F.A. or not, but would sit as a farmer if returned to the House.

Questions came thick and fast and for a few minutes there was something of an uproar.

Mr Priestley asked if Mr Hudson were a member of the U.F.A. be—

For the past seven years, and in particular for the past four years, or since the introduction of the linotype machine into this office, the Chauvin Chronicle has ever and always held its columns open for the expression of opinion of all shades. Sedition and libel only being excluded.

In the future this policy will be maintained.

Under the new system of government now in power public and free discussion of all affairs will be more necessary and we trust that from week to week matters of import and interest will be discussed from all sides and from all viewpoints. To all of which our columns will be open just as they have consistently been in the past.

Now regarding editorials (the writings of the editor himself). We submit that the time has passed when an editor should sit and ponder as to what will win him the most applause, or in other words 'run with the crowd.' We submit that he should freely state what his own convictions are: and that his readers should accept them as such—just as they do correspondence in the other columns of the paper.

We do not see eye to eye. It is sufficient that in all our differences we are making an earnest effort for the general welfare. Our columns then are open to all for this purpose.

Harry Strachan, V.C.
Speaks At Chauvin

An enthusiastic meeting was held in support of the candidature of in the I.O.O.F. Hall Saturday evening in support of the candidature of Harry Strachan, V.C.. Lt.Col. Rodden occupied the chair. The opening speeches were made by Mrs T. Armour, Mr. J. Semple and Mr J. A. Mackenzie. The latter gave a resume of the laws passed under the Stewart administration, showing that Alberta was a leader in legislation supporting and maintaining the rights of women. He outlined the educational system for the province showing that the Alberta university was given an excellent preparation to her students at a low-cost than Sask. or Manitoba, who in turn were operated more economically than those in the U.S.

Major Harry Strachan arrested the attention of all present by his quiet, but forceful manner of speaking. His theme being that the government of the province was strictly a business such. The province might be regarded as a large municipal district with administrative duties to be performed. He instanced that upon arrival in this district it was impossible to hold a dance owing to the lack of a school house. Now, he was able to meet in schoolhouses all over the constituency. He outlined the tremendous amount of improvements and service throughout Alberta by the government, not only in the matter of education, but regarding roads, telephones agricultural and other matters. This work must be continued in a safe, sound and business like manner, pledging himself to apply himself to this task.

The meeting closed with the singing of the National Anthem, after a rousing set of cheers had been accorded to Strachan.

Damage to Grain
Being Investigated

The damage to the standing grain fields south of Chauvin, at first reported to have been caused by the grasshoppers is being thoroughly investigated. Professor MacBeth, of the Vermilion School of Agriculture, visited the district in response to the call by the Municipal District of Ribstone. On seeing the damaged Macbeth stated he had not seen anything of that nature before. Specimens have been forwarded to the Entomological Branch at Lethbridge, from whom a report is expected at an early date.

Battle River Grade Is Dangerous for Traffic
Another accident has occurred on that treacherous grode north of the Battle river bridge. This is that road(?) up what is locally known as the Otter mole coulee, the grade being too narrow for saftey, and pitched the wrong way, with a precipitous drop to the bottom of the ravine.
William Harrison was coming down this grade with a load of oats, when one of his horses took fright and pushing its mate started the whole outfit down the steep bank. Harrison, with considerable agility leaped to the ground, retaining control of the lines. He was successful in holding his horses up, checking the heavy load which was now pushing the horses straight down the bank. At the bottom there was a washout several feet deep, here the load overturned.
Miraculously enough, only the neck-yoke was broken, but it took many hours of hard work to extricate the overturned mess.
It's all right to hope for something that you couldn't get even by hustling for it.
It's easy to withstand temptation that invites us to do something that we do not care to do.

Letters To The Editor
U.F.A. JOINS THE RANKS OF SPECIAL PRIVILEGE
19th July 1921
Dear Sir:
Now that the U.F.A. will form the Government of Alberta the point I made at Mr. Love's meeting in Chauvin last Thursday is confirmed viz. that the U.F.A. Association by the recall on their "elected representatives" will as an Association control the Government of this Province.
In the preliminary to the platform passed by the U.F.A. political conventions for this election appear these words "Our elected representatives are responsible to the Association".
Well, the "elected" representatives will now form the Government of the Province of Alberta and will therefore under the foregoing be responsible to the U.F.A.. This gives the U.F.A. as an Association contro of the government.
This is special privilege. The U.F.A. has always had for its motto "Equal rights for all, Special Privilege for none" and the U.F.A. has never ceased to declaim against the forces of Special Privilege. By their own action in this election they have joined thore ranks and made it impossible for those of its members who have any regard for their own honor (to say nothing of the honor of the U.F.A.) to remain members of that organization.
Yours truly
H. FOREMAN.
P.S. The above letter has been forwarded to the U.F.A. Calgary.

The meeting not adjourned on motion at about 8.00 p.m.

Fram G. G. A.
A most successful picnic was held on the grounds of Mr. P. Wogberg, on Tuesday last. A large crowd gathered together and the arrangements (which had been made by the com. mittees) were well carried out. A baseball game was staged between Battle Hill and the Married Men, and altho' Battle Hill won they had to go all the way in order to overcome the the benedicts. A game for the juniors between Fram district and Brady district ended in the local boys (Fram) taking the prize money. Various sports for the youngsters were run off under the guidance of Mr W. Pritchett and great interest was taken in them. The booth under the management of Messrs A. Gabrielson and T. Thorson did a splendid business. To wind up a dance was given in the spacious barn of Mr S. R. Ullis, and the fun waxed fast and furious until daylight. Many visitors were present and all declared themselves delighted with the picnic.

The postponed meeting of the Association was held on Saturday evening last in the Schoolhouse. In the absence of the President. Mr S. Ullis was elected to the chair. The minutes of all previous meetings were passed as read. The secretary-treasurer of the picnic (Mr en. W. Coe) gave a detailed balance sheet of the picnic which showed a handsome surplus. His report was unanimously adopted, and thanks were given to all those who assisted in making the picnic the success it was. Various items of interest were discussed and the meeting adjourned to meet again on Saturday, August 6th at 8 o'clock.

cause if not he was eligible for nomination. Mr. J. H. Clipston, secretary of the Wainwright U.F.A. said Mr Hudson had not paid his dues this year

Mr H. E. Spencer the chairman then called Mr Hudson to the platform and announced to him that as the constitution required that a nominee be a member of the U.F.A. his nomination could not be entertained.

Mr Clark on renewing his address said he was disgusted with Mr Hudsons decision to run whether the farmers wanted him or not, he had thought that Hudson was really wanting to stand for U.F.A. but if the way Mr Hudson had expressed himself was what that gentleman meant then God help the U.F.A. movement

Mr. J. R. Love, Irma, considered it an honor to enter the political arena in the cause of the U.F.A. He al- movement. He always stood for democracy and political fairplay, and saw it as his duty to bring a spirit in- to the farming community which would make an absolute success of their political fight.

The farmers surely had the right to see that the government of Alberta was one which would at least defend the rights of those who were the back bone of any country and especially the the West—the farmers.

The fact of being standard bearer honors for this convention was one the honor of which he much appreciated. The Group system was to the speaker's mind the only real chance for the salvation of the west, and the farm- ers' movement was the very best op- portunity the common people had to assert their right to recognition.

Mr Hudson's name was withdrawn on account of not being a member of the U.F.A. The nominees were J. R. Love, of Irma, J. W. Wiley, of Sul- phur Springs, J. G. Clark of Irma.

86 ballots were cast and Love hav- ing a majority over the other two nominees was declared the candidate for the provincial election. On motion Wiley-Clarke the nomination was made unanimous.

Mr Love returned thanks for no- mination and asked for all support possible.

was asked to contribute all possible.

Before adjourning each delegate was asked to contribute all possible towards funds.

A Sixteen Day Trip To The Coast

Yellowhead Pass

Leaving Jasper the following morn we had a glorious ride through the famous Yellowhead Pass, seeing its manifold glories from the deck of an observation car. This trip is one of supreme comfort and beauty, and es- sentially different from the arduous voyage of Sir Alexander MacKenzie in 1793, with his band of eight white men and two Indians in a big canoe. Of their trip it is recorded that swift rapids and leaping cascades made the progress laborious and dangerous, over frequent portages of almost im- passible nature. Such scenes we then saw pass in panorama before our eyes as we sat comfortably on the train. We were filled with admiration for the little band of brave men who a century and a quarter past traversed these treacherous waters with but a small hope of reward for strenuous bravery.

From the train can be seen the many cascades of water draining from the snowfields in plain sight, dashing turbulently down the mountain side, with a rushing roar louder than that of the train. Ever and anon one is even splashed as the train rushes by. In places the scene is one of a quiet peace, instead of the rushing water there is a swamp or muskeg, over the expanse of which progress is diffi- cult alike for canoe, pedestrian or a wagon. Or again it is a peaceful lake from which the mountain rises, leav- ing scant, if any, room for a roadway

Under the varying sunlight and shadow lights the sides of the moun- tains present remarkable and pretty sights. Sometimes a brilliant red, at others varying shades of blue, brown, grey, green, and in fact rainbow ef- fects. One range skirting the Pass is named the Rainbow mountains, and its name is graphically true. From the glaciers and snowfields just over us we see the deep blue of the heav- ens broken by the fleecy white of the clouds growing before our eyes. As we watch these clouds growing in both number and volume we thought of our prairie homes and wished that those clouds we were then, watching would be borne by the wind and in due time deposit their load of mois- ture on the fields we had left behind.

Majestic Mount Robson

At the far end of the Yellowhead pass the train stopped for a few min- utes to give us a glimpse of that stu- pendous pyramid of rock, the high- est mountain in the Rocky mountains, we refer to Mount Robson, over 11,000 feet above the level of the sea. Face to face with this majesty of nature one is impressed with a sense of one's own insignificance. It is also no easy matter to judge the true immensity of the rugged grandeur before your eyes —this sense can only be obtained by actually climbing. To climb Mount Robson is only possible to the most experienced mountain climbers.

From this point the railroad to Prince Rupert continues to follow the Fraser river, but the railroad to Van- couver following a tributary of the Fraser climbs over an height of land to the Carrot river, crossing it and thence past Albreda lake to the North Thompson river. After reaching this river it follows it until the Thompson river is joined at Kamloops and the Fraser river is again reached at Lyt- ton, from which point the Fraser is followed to the sea.

Central British Columbia

Roughly speaking, it is twenty hour train ride from Mount Robson to the sea. There is a certain similarity of beautiful scenery along this section of the route that is hard to interestingly describe. It is one panorama of for- est beauty, the snow capped moun- tains always in more or less distant view. Tamarck, firs and pine trees growing in profusion, the more fami- liar willow, poplar and spruce also in plenty of evidence. Under these we noted profuse growths of bracken and ferns, together with fruits of a large number of varieties, notably goose- berries, raspberry, strawberries, blue- berries and wild cherries. As for the flowers we noted there were more than we could identify.

As we drew within about sixty mile from Kamloop a difference in the na- ture of the country was to be observ- ed, the natural meadowlike formation of land became more frequent, as did also a number of clearings. Irriga- tion ditches and electric power and telephone lines became continuous.

Fruit lands and hay meadows, to- gether with fields and poultry farms come into the range of sight with an increasing frequency. Many irrigation ditches and conduits crossing the tracks. We noticed likewise horses and cattle, the later being generally of a very choice character, Jerseys and Holsteins seemed to predominate or at least as far as we could observe.

The shades of evening had thicken- ed as we entered Kamloops, and our attention was drawn to the fiery dome surmounting the furnace of a sawmill, inside which we could see the men working at their machines, the whole scene giving one and im- pression of seeing the imps preparing the infernal regions. This being an awful strong contrast to the peaceful scenes of mountain, forest and pas- ture through which we had been pas- sing the whole day long.

Fraternal Lodges Met Meet At Edgerton

On July 13th. the Reebekahs together with the Oddfellows journeyed to Edgerton, where a joint installation of officers of the Wainwright, Edgerton and Chauvin Oddfellow and Rebekah Lodges.

After the installation the Edgerton ladies served lunch which was greatly appreciated by the visiting lodges.

A song by Mrs. Keith and a duet by Rev E H and Miss Maddocks were exceptionally well rendered, and very much enjoyed.

Speeches from several brothers and sisters followed after which dancing ended a very enjoyable evening.

In these small towns we appreciate these get together functions. The social intercourse and exchange of thought help us to understand the true ideals of Oddfellowship and the work which is being carried on by the order. It also helps us to realize that though we may be but a small lodge in a small town we are part of one great brotherhood and sisterhood.
